Royal Agricultural Benevolent Institution

The only charity which exists solely for the relief of farmers who have been ruined in the practice of their industry.

Since its institution in 1860 it has distributed more than £1,046,000 in pensions to destitute aged farmers and their female dependants, who are elected by the votes of contributors, subject to certain qualifications.

Incumbents of all parishes both in town and country are earnestly asked to bring the claims of the Institution to the notice of their congregations. Church Collections are always welcomed, but Harvest Offertories are especially opportune, as helping to foster a feeling of sympathy between the consumers of agricultural produce and those who cultivate the land for their benefit.

For pew leaflets and information kindly address:

THE SECRETARY, R.A.B. Inst., 8 Waterloo Place, London, S.W. 1, or any Hon. Local Secretary.

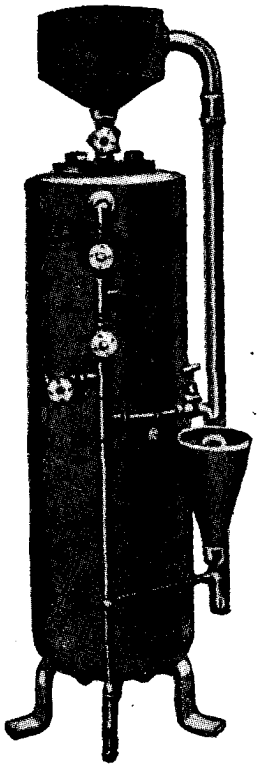
Let "PERMUTIT" work its miracle for you



The "Permutit" Water Softener.

THE DAILY MIRACLE of changing hard, lime-laden Tap Water into soft, pure, healthful water, without chemicals, labour or mechanism, at an infinitesimal cost.

JUST a slender steel cylinder containing "Permutit," attached to the water main of any House, Hotel, Institution or Factory, will give that building an unlimited supply of the softest, purest water for drinking, cooking, toilet, baths, hot water system, laundry, boilers, and all other domestic or industrial purposes.

THE "PERMUTIT" household Water Softener takes up little more room than an umbrella stand, and costs no more than your newspaper weekly. It pays for itself by saving 50% of your soap, soda, tea, and other household materials, and so gives you the precious boon of increased health and comfort for nothing.

CURATES' AUGMENTATION FUND

The only Society in the Church of England founded (in 1866) for the purpose of supplementing the stipends of Assistant Curates.

Presidents—HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.
HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF YORK.

Hon. Treasurers—Rev. J. F. MARR; Rev. T. A. SEDGWICK.

THIS FUND augments by grants of £50 a year the stipends of Curates who have been more than 15 years in Holy Orders, and are still in full active work.
The grants are made irrespective of party views and are in all cases an addition to the official stipends.
It is the only Society in England that directly increases the Stipends of Curates of long standing and should not be confused with any Society whose object is to encourage the employment of additional Curates. Over £5,000 was distributed last year in grants.
The average stipend of those receiving grants does not exceed £4 10s. a week—very inadequate remuneration for those who have served the Church long and faithfully.

CHURCH COLLECTIONS, SUBSCRIPTIONS AND DONATIONS THANKFULLY RECEIVED.

Cheques, P.O.O., and Postal Orders, crossed 'COUTTS & Co.', should be sent to the Hon. Treasurer, Rev. J. F. MARR, 2 DEAN'S YARD, WESTMINSTER, S.W. 1.

The Church Pastoral-Aid Society is a Home Missionary Society of the Church of England and helps incumbents of large and populous parishes, by means of grants for additional workers, clerical and lay, to proclaim the Gospel in the Church, in the street and in the homes of the people. The Society lays great stress upon pastoral visitation 'from house to house'. Last year the Society expended in grants more than £47,000 in the support of 1,124 agents in all parts of England and Wales. The Society through its Ordination Fund seeks to provide an Evangelical Ministry, by means of grants to earnest-minded men of limited means, towards the cost of their training. This Fund was never more needed than in the present day when the shortage of clergy is a serious menace to the Church's future. Seventy-three Candidates are at present being helped.

The Society is loyal to the Reformation settlement and uses the funds entrusted to it for the propagation of Evangelical truth.

CHARTER OF S.P.G.

The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts was founded with the authority of the House of Convocation, and was incorporated on 23 June, 1701, by Royal Charter granted by William III. Wherever the S.P.G. works it helps to plant the one Catholic and Apostolic Church under its Bishops, on a self-supporting basis, with its own ministry native to its own land. As a result there are now organized Churches in the United States, Canada, South Africa, the West Indies, Australia, and New Zealand, not only self-supporting, but helping in the evangelization of the world.

Your help, inquiries, and support is invited.

Vacancies for men and women exist in most parts of the mission field, of which particulars may be obtained on application.

The Society appeals for an additional Income of £30,000 to maintain existing work. The Society's Official Organ, 'THE MISSION FIELD,' price 2d., can be obtained from any bookseller, or price 3s. per annum, post free, if sent direct from the S.P.G. Office. BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY

This Society aids all missions of the Church of England by printing, publishing, and sending out the Holy Scriptures required in their various fields. Anglican missions to-day use versions in over 200 separate languages and dialects; in at least 190 of these, editions have been obtained from the B.F.B.S. without cost to the exchequer of the missions.

It has its own experienced agents in fifty different states and kingdoms, and maintains depots in over a hundred of the chief cities of the earth.

The world-wide spread of education is raising up millions of new readers every year. The vast modern movements of emigration create linguistic needs which no other institution can meet. The triumphs of Christian missions involve ever-increasing claims upon the funds of the Bible Society.

The cost of the Society's work has increased enormously, and it appeals to all friends and lovers of the Bible for that support which it needs to-day more than ever.

'Without the British and Foreign Bible Society, missionary work would be almost impossible.'

PREFACE

THE year 1928 was a memorable one in the history of the Church of England; inter alia for the fact that there was no edition of Crockford. This hiatus valde deflendus was not due to any weakening on our part of the sense of the duty which we owe to the Church and Nation. But certain alterations which we had decided to introduce into the arrangement and printing of the volume made it impossible for us to do more than issue a brief Supplement recording the changes which had taken place since our last issue. Editorial.

The volume is now divided into nine sections, with a view to facilitating the use of it as a work of reference.

Section 1 consists of Title, Preface, Contents, List of Maps, Index to Dioceses and to Bishops Suffragan, and Abbreviations.

Section 2. Biographies (for the rearrangement of the records see below) and Appendix.

Section 3. English (following the Biographies and taking the place of the old Index of Parishes). Canterbury to Sodor and Man, Cathedral Establishment lists, Collegiate Churches, Prison Chaplains, Rural Deaneries, Index to Parishes, Houses of Convocation and of the Church Assembly, and the Succession of Archbishops and Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York.

Section 4. Welsh. Welsh Cathedrals, Index to Parishes, the Representative Body, Succession of Archbishops and Bishops of Wales.

Section 5. Scottish. Cathedrals and Map, Index to Parishes, and Succession of Prelates in Scotland.

Section 6. Irish. Cathedrals and Map, Index to Parishes, the Representative Body, and the Succession of the Archbishops and Bishops of Ireland.

Section 7. Overseas.

Section 8. Miscellanea. Prelates who have resigned their Sees, Church of England Societies, Universities, Theological Colleges, List of Persons who have taken advantage of the Clerical Disabilities Act, Tithe Rentcharge table, Bishops Suffragan, Bishops of the American Church.

Section 9. Supplement of late Appointments, Ordinations, Resignations, and Obituary.

We hope that when our readers have noted these alterations they will feel that they have received some compensation for the shock and disappointment of last year.

The new volume contains all the material given in former issues with the exception of the Patronage and Diocesan Charities (pp. cli–cxciv and pp. xxxv–xxxvi, ed. 1927).

The former list is incomplete, and as the information which it gives can be gathered from other parts of Crockford, either directly by referring to the former incumbent's entry, or indirectly through the Index to Parishes section, it seems doubtful whether it was worth the forty-four pages which it occupied.

Diocesan Charities can be found in the Official Year Book of the Church of England or in Diocesan Calendars, so that it appears to be unnecessary for us to repeat information which is given (perhaps more fully) elsewhere.

For this reason we do not think it worth while to add the acreage of parishes and the Church accommodation to the Index, as one of our correspondents suggests.

In the biographies the records have been rearranged, with appointments in sequence from the time of ordination. Canons, Prebendaries, Chancellors, &c., are shown by naming the office immediately after the surname.

The Overseas section comprises all the information which was dispersed through four sections in our last issue under one heading. Two Prelates from beyond the seas have already commended this condensation.

An additional feature in this issue is a list of the names of the Representative Bodies of the Church in Wales and the Church of Ireland.

A new type has been employed throughout, and the Shields of Arms have all been re-drawn.

Changes in the Episcopate have been exceptionally numerous and important since our last issue.

On 12 November 1928 the Most Reverend Randall Thomas Davidson resigned the See of Canterbury after the longest Primacy since that of Warham (1503–33). Appointments.

Since the Reformation no Primate of All England has resigned. George Abbot (1610–33) suspended the exercise of his functions owing to an accidental homicide. The See was placed in commission, and no successor was appointed during his life-time. William Sancroft was deprived for political reasons on 1 August 1690.

The Most Reverend Cosmo Gordon Lang has been translated from the See of York, and has been succeeded by the Most Reverend William Temple, formerly Bishop of Manchester.

Dr. Warman has been translated from Chelmsford to Manchester, and has been succeeded by the Right Reverend Henry Albert Wilson, formerly Rector of Cheltenham.

Dr. Wild has resigned the Bishopric of Newcastle, and Mr. Heywood the Bishopric of Southwell. They have been succeeded by Dr. Bilbrough, formerly Bishop Suffragan of Dover, and by Dr. Mosley, formerly Bishop Suffragan of Stepney.

Dr. Eden has resigned the See of Wakefield after an episcopate of thirty-one years, and has been succeeded by the Right Reverend James Buchanan Seaton, formerly Vicar of Cuddesdon and Principal of the Theological College there.

Dr. Greig has been translated from the See of Gibraltar to the new diocese of Guildford, and has been succeeded by the Right Reverend Frederick Cyril Nugent Hicks, formerly Vicar of Brighton.

Dr. Pearce, formerly Master of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, and the Right Reverend Ernest Neville Lovett, formerly Archdeacon and Vicar of Portsmouth, have been consecrated as first Bishops of the new dioceses of Derby and Portsmouth. The Right Reverend William Stanton Jones, formerly Archdeacon of Bradford, has become Bishop of Sodor and Man in place of Bishop Thornton-Duesbery, deceased.

The Right Reverend John Victor Macmillan, formerly Archdeacon of Maidstone, has been appointed Bishop Suffragan of Dover, and the Right Reverend Arthur Mesac Knight Assistant Bishop of Canterbury. The Right Reverend Ronald Erskine Ramsay, formerly domestic chaplain to the Bishop of Bristol, has been appointed Bishop Suffragan of Malmesbury. The Right Reverend Herbert Gresford Jones, formerly Bishop of Kampala, has become Bishop Suffragan of Warrington. The Right Reverend Charles Edward Curzon, formerly Vicar of St. Barnabas's, Addison-road, Bishop Suffragan of Stepney, and the Right Reverend William Champion Streatfeild, Vicar of Eastbourne, Bishop Suffragan of Lewes, in place of Bishop Cook, deceased. The Right Reverend Gerald Burton Allen has been appointed Bishop Suffragan of Sherborne in place of Bishop Crowther, deceased.

In Wales the Bishop of Bangor has died and the vacancy has been filled by the translation of the Right Reverend Charles Alfred Howell Green from the See of Monmouth.

The Venerable Gilbert Cunningham Joyce, Archdeacon of St. David's, has been elected Bishop of Monmouth, and the Venerable Thomas Lloyd, Archdeacon of St. Asaph, has been consecrated as Bishop Suffragan of Maenan in the diocese of St. Asaph.

In Ireland Bishop Orr has been translated from Tuam to Meath in succession to Bishop Collins, deceased. The Right Reverend John Mason Harden, formerly Chaplain and Head Master of the King's Hospital, Dublin, has been consecrated as Bishop of Tuam.

Abroad, the Right Reverend Frederick Merivale Molyneux, formerly Assistant Bishop of Melanesia, has become Bishop of Melanesia to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Right Reverend John Manwaring Steward, who had held the See since 1919. The Right Reverend Edward Nowill Wilton has been appointed Assistant Bishop.

In New Zealand the Right Reverend Frederick Augustus Bennett has been consecrated as first Bishop of Aotearoa. We believe him to be the first member of the Maori race to reach the episcopate.

The Right Reverend Philip Henry Loyd, formerly Assistant Bishop of Bombay, has been appointed to the new diocese of Nasik. Bishop Fyffe has resigned the See of Rangoon and has been succeeded by Bishop Tubbs, late of Tinnevelly. The Right Reverend Charles John Godfrey Saunders has become Bishop of Lucknow in place of Bishop Westcott, deceased.

In Africa Bishop Baines has resigned the See of Natal and has been succeeded by Bishop Fisher, late of Lebombo. The Right Reverend Theodore Sumner Gibson has become Bishop of Kimberley in place of Bishop Gore-Browne, deceased. A new diocese of Central Tanganyika has been formed out of the diocese of Zanzibar with the Right Reverend George Alexander Chambers as first Bishop.

In North America the Right Reverend William Archibald Geddes has become Bishop of the Mackenzie River, and the Right Reverend George Alexander Rix Bishop of Caledonia.

The Right Reverend David Williams Bentley has become Bishop of Barbados.

In Australia Bishop Stephen has resigned the See of Newcastle and has been succeeded by Bishop Long, late of Bathurst. The Right Reverend Horace Crotty has been consecrated as Bishop of Bathurst. Bishop Maxwell-Gumbleton has resigned the See of Ballarat and has been succeeded by Bishop Crick, late of Rockhampton. The Right Reverend Fortescue Lee Ash has been consecrated as Bishop of Rockhampton and the Right Reverend John Stephen Hart as Bishop of Wangaratta.

In Further Asia Bishop Ferguson-Davie has resigned the See of Singapore and has been succeeded by the Right Reverend Basil Coleby Roberts. Bishop Molony has resigned the See of Chekiang and has been succeeded by the Right Reverend John Curtis.

The Right Reverend Gordon John Welsh has become Bishop of Hokkaido, and the Right Reverend Peter Yonetaro Matsui has been appointed Bishop of Tokyo in place of Bishop Motoda, deceased.

The Very Reverend Reginald Thomas Talbot, formerly Archdeacon of Swindon, has been appointed Dean of Rochester in succession to the late Mr. Storrs.

The Right Reverend John Hugh Granville Randolph, formerly Bishop Suffragan of Guildford, has been appointed Dean of Salisbury in succession to the late Dr. Burn.

The Very Reverend James Gilliland Simpson, formerly Canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, has been appointed Dean of Peterborough in succession to Mr. Page.

Our correspondents.

We have been asked to call the attention of our readers to the fact that the Adoption of Children Act, 1927, has legalized the adoption of children, and that in consequence a National Adoption Society (registered under the Friendly Societies' Act, 1896) has been formed, with head-quarters at 4, Baker-street, London, W. 1.

This organization works in co-operation with the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society, and has already found homes for more than 1,000 children.

We have reason to think that comparatively little is known in England about the Episcopal Church in Scotland. We have even heard it described by natives of Scotland as The English Church, a designation which betrays considerable ignorance both as to its past history and present status. There is really better ground historically for regarding the province of York as a branch of the Scottish Church. We therefore venture to call the attention of our readers to the Year Book for the Episcopal Church in Scotland, which is published by the Scottish Chronicle Press at 100, Prince's-st., Edinburgh, and at 53, High-st., Selkirk. We cannot claim close personal familiarity with this work, but we believe that perusal of it would dispel some current misconceptions.

One correspondent complains that Patrons are inclined to pass over the claims of senior men and to appoint only young men to benefices. In his opinion this is a definite policy, designed to attract young men to enter the ministry.

We do not know how much justice there is in his complaint, but we think it unlikely that a collection of persons as varied as the holders of patronage could be capable of framing or pursuing a concerted policy of any kind whatever; which is probably to the general advantage of the Church. It is, however, possible that some Patrons are inclined to exaggerate the value to a parish of a brisk administrator of cheerful demeanour and youthful buoyancy, and to forget that the primary function of an Incumbent is to teach religion, and that no one can teach more than he has learned.

Another correspondent writes in a strain of great bitterness about his financial difficulties during the whole of a ministry of 47 years, and complains that the Ecclesiastical Commissioners will not grant him a pension of more than £75 per annum, and that only on condition that he has at least £50 per annum from other sources. The precise point of this condition is not clear to us. We do not know whether it is within the power of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to grant a pension of more than £75 per annum or not. It must depend, we imagine, largely on what other charges have to be borne by their common fund, and it may not be easy to decide what charges are entitled to priority.

We are, however, afraid that our correspondent's case is not an isolated one. We doubt whether the Laity as a whole have yet begun to realize the grinding poverty with which many of the clergy (who are expected to be men of education) are compelled to struggle all their life long.

Pensions.

The issue of The Times for 19 May 1927 stated that at the last meeting of the Church of England Pensions' Board disability pensions were granted, for the first time under the new measure, to compulsory contributors.

This is welcome news, and the Board must be congratulated on possessing the power to act so promptly. We are informed that Chaplains serving on the Continent under the Bishop of Fulham are not eligible for inclusion in the scheme, on the ground that although in the diocese of London they are not in the province of Canterbury. This strikes us as a reductio ad absurdum, and we cannot think that a technicality of this kind, however unassailable it may be legally, ought to be used as an argument.

If these Chaplains wish to be included we cannot see why they should be debarred. An Income and Expenditure Account for the period ending December 1927 was issued in November 1928. 'Preliminary expenses', including alterations to office buildings, have amounted to nearly £4,500, and 'management expenses' to almost exactly £10,000. The latter charge will presumably recur.

At the autumn session of 1927 questions were asked in the Assembly as to the number of persons employed in the office of the Church of England Pensions' Board, the salaries paid to them, and their pension arrangements.

The Chairman of the Board replied that while the Assembly might rest assured that the office was administered as efficiently and economically as possible it was not in the public interest to furnish the information asked for.

Prima facie it would appear to be desirable to give the widest publicity to the details of a model institution, if only in the hope of provoking less admirable bodies, such as the Admiralty or the War Office, to an honourable emulation. Be that as it may, all true lovers of their country will rejoice to learn that in a world of change—sometimes perhaps hasty and injudicious change—there still remains one inviolable sanctuary where the great traditions of the Circumlocution Office[1] flourish in all their ancient vigour.

Captious and depraved persons of low intelligence may, of course, wonder whether this kind of Official Reticence is really likely to promote public confidence in the Assembly (especially amongst the clergy) and to stimulate the flow of voluntary contributions to its exchequer. But these are great matters in which we do not exercise ourselves.

The measure was so amended during 1928 that premiums are no longer payable in advance. This is only equitable as, presumably, pensions will not be paid in advance. Per contra the basis of assessment is to be 'earned income' not payments received. For salaried persons the two are no doubt always identical. Clergy who receive rents from any form of real property will be under no illusion as to what this may mean for them.

By the summer session of 1927 it was obvious that the increasing discontent of the clergy could no longer be ignored, and a commission was set up to investigate the financial burdens which had been imposed upon them by recent legislation.

One speaker denied that there was any matter for investigation in a strain which recalled the profound theology and acute reasoning of the eminent light of learning who once presided over the destinies of Dotheboys Hall.

The financial position of the clergy.

'Why this . . ., seems to be a bond from a curate down in the country to pay half a year's wages of forty pound for borrowing twenty. Take care of that, for if he don't pay it his Bishop will very soon be down upon him. We know what the camel and the needle's eye means; no man as can't live upon his income, whatever it is, must expect to go to heaven at any price.'[2]

The Commission discharged its task with remarkable speed, and reported at the autumn session.

It found that the augmentation of benefices, on which much emphasis has been laid in the Assembly and elsewhere, has not kept pace with the fall in the value of money. The average benefice is worth to-day about 16 per cent. less than before the war.

[1] Little Dorrit, ch. x: 'Containing the whole science of Government.'

[2] Nicholas Nickleby, vol. ii, p. 346. (Ed. Chapman & Hall, London, 1882.)

In other words, without taking into account the charges imposed by the Tithe Act, the Dilapidations' and Pensions' measures, the clergy as a whole are worse off than they were fifteen years ago. The clergy had, of course, anticipated some such finding. They have been under no illusion as to the difference between their actual and reputed financial position. But never before has there been an authoritative statement of the real facts.

This report should be of the greatest value, and may even convince some prominent members of the Assembly that the elected representatives of the parochial clergy are not a set of fractious and partially imbecile children, but men who sometimes have had good reason to know what they are talking about.

An attempt was made to impugn its accuracy on the ground that the figures supplied by the Board of Trade relating to the cost of living, on which the Commission had relied, are compiled with reference to 'working men' only.

'Working men' pay rent for their houses. Most beneficed clergy do not. Ergo the latter are unaffected by the fall in the value of money and have nothing to complain of Q.E.D.

It appeared to have escaped these logicians that clergy pay for the education of their children, and have other expenses to meet which do not form part of 'working class' budgets. These charges at least balance the doubtful benefit of a rent-free house, often of an unsuitable and inconvenient character, for which dilapidations' tax and pensions' tax have both to be paid. It might also surprise them to learn how many 'working men' have bought the homes in which they live. The youngest assistant curate in any industrial parish could enlighten them on this point.

The report has already borne some fruit, inasmuch as it has been partly responsible for the Tithe (Administration of Trusts) Measure, which received the Royal Assent on 3 August 1928.

This measure provides for:

The Tithe Act.

1. Regular quarterly distribution of tithe-income to the clergy—less, of course, the new charges for dilapidations and pensions.

2. Authorization of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to advance money to Q.A.B. in order to secure payment on 1 April and 1 October, the due dates in each year. Distribution on the other dates (1 January and 1 July) will also be somewhat in advance of receipt by Q.A.B.

We believe that these arrangements came into force on 1 October 1928. They must have involved, and will probably continue to involve, a considerable amount of labour for those responsible for carrying them out.

If they work smoothly they will be a very real benefit to the clergy, and will afford some consolation for the fact that about half of them can no longer be said to own the temporalities of their benefices in any real sense, but are entirely dependent financially upon a single corporation, over which they have no control whatever. It is obvious that this has made it possible to 'dragoon' them, as we believe clergy of the Roman obedience can be dragooned to-day. At the moment the possibility may appear remote, but he would be a rash man who should venture to predict that it will still be remote in ten years' time.

One Bishop has already adumbrated some such policy as, in his opinion, the best method of guiding the Church's feet into the way of peace.

The following facts, which have been communicated by an old and valued correspondent, are of interest: (1) the amount of tithe collectable through the 15 Area-committees in April 1927 approximated to £1,781,000 per annum in respect of 5,700 benefices, and £1,097 in respect of 3 ecclesiastical corporations; (2) some 1,800 incumbents were collecting about £583,000 per annum. This will gradually diminish, and in time the whole will be collected by the Area-committees. About £79,500 per annum is being collected by the corporations concerned; (3) The average cost of collection by Q.A.B. (including agents' committee and Area-committees' expenses) is 3½ per cent.; but as time goes on that may be reduced when the small sums have been merged or redeemed, as is much to be desired, and when the whole of the tithe is collected through the Area-committees; (4) There was collected during April and May 1927, 47 per cent. of the amount due on 1 April 1927, and during October and November 1927, 52 per cent. of the amount due on 1 October 1927. With the exception of the Secretaries and Conveners (joint offices) all the members of the Area-committees (141 clerical and lay) serve quite gratuitously thereon, although in some cases travelling (not subsistence) allowances are made.

The expenditure of an enormous amount of time and work is entailed upon these committees, and particularly upon those concerned with large areas and correspondingly large income from the charge.

The correspondence columns of the newspapers have revealed considerable dissatisfaction with the working of the Act on the part of many tithe-owning clergy.

Undoubtedly there have been instances of real hardship. One incumbent was reported to have been compelled to apply to the Poor Law Guardians for a loan, because he was unable for many months to obtain from the Bounty Office any part of the tithe rentcharge belonging to his benefice. (It is possible that the difficulty of procuring credit for more than a few weeks in many country districts is imperfectly understood in Dean's-yard.) It is, however, to be remembered that neither the Assembly nor the Bounty Office was responsible for the measure in the first instance. It has been imposed upon the Church by Act of Parliament, and the Church has to administer it as best it can.

The new Area-committees found that they had to deal with a situation not very far removed from chaos. Many of the schedules of parochial tithe were incomplete and confused, and there was a very large number of non-legal unofficial apportionments which could not be recovered by any process of law. The business was further complicated by the immense number of sub-divided tenements, which the last few years have brought into being. We think it unfortunate that when a question was asked at the spring session 1928 about the working of the Act the reply returned on behalf of the Bounty Office made no mention of these and other relevant facts. Merely to tell men who have not received all the money due to them that they have no grievance is unlikely to carry conviction. As we have already said, it may be hoped that the administration of the Act will run more smoothly in future, though the experience of Wales suggests that several years may elapse before all initial difficulties have been overcome.

When the Bill was under discussion in Parliament two members of the House of Commons, of somewhat different antecedents, said that it would make disendowment more difficult. For this reason one of them voted for, and one against it.

We are not disposed to endorse this opinion, as it appears to us that the more funds are brought under uniform and centralized control the easier it becomes to ascertain their source and extent and to plunder them. The disendowment of Q.A.B. would be more serious now than it would have been in 1924. But if the Act has brought this additional measure of security in its train that must be reckoned amongst its solid advantages.

Lay Impropriators' Liability.

On 20 October 1928 Chancellor K. H. Macmorran delivered in Ely Cathedral judgement in an important case instituted under the direction of the Legal Committee of the Central Board of Finance in the Ely Consistory Court. The defendant was impropriator of the tithe rentcharge of the benefice of Hauxton, and had been required by the Parochial Church Council to effect certain repairs in the Chancel roof, in respect of which he had denied liability.

The Chancellor held that:

(a) liability to repair the chancel attached to the person in receipt of the profits of the rectory, the word 'rectory' being in cases of this kind synonymous with the profits derived by the owner;

(b) the defendant was in receipt of profits, and therefore liable;

(c) he had had due notice through a Title Deed and otherwise of his liability, and that

(d) notice was not essential.

The defendant was admonished and accordingly held to be guilty of default.

The Church Assembly Fund.

The receipts of the Church Assembly Fund have not, unfortunately, kept pace with the demands upon them.

During 1925 diocesan contributions amounted to £100,830. In 1926 they fell to £99,694 and in 1927 to £95,976. The total deficit on 31 December 1927 was just over £24,000. It is hoped to discharge this in three years by including £8,000 per annum in the budget for that purpose.

At the moment of writing we believe that the figures for the current year show an encouraging advance.

The gravity of the situation was emphasized by several speakers when the budget was presented at the summer session of 1928. No doubt the Church, like other things, is still feeling the effects of the industrial upheaval of 1926, and it may be hoped that these will pass gradually. But those parts of the country which have lived on coal for more than a century are unlikely to see the return of anything resembling their old prosperity for as far ahead as any one can look at present. Only those who have known colliery districts at first hand for (say) twenty years can form any picture of the change which has overtaken them.

Some members of the House of Laity spoke almost plaintively of an undercurrent of hostility towards the Assembly which they thought they had detected amongst the clergy! They professed themselves unable to account for this.

It is difficult to arrive at any just estimate of the financial resources of any parish so as to fix what might be regarded as a scientific quota. However the amount of the quota may be determined, the payment in almost all parishes depends almost entirely upon the goodwill and energy of the Incumbent. When the Dilapidations' and Pensions' measures were before the Assembly some of the proctors for the clergy expressed the opinion that whatever the ultimate outcome of these schemes might be, their immediate effect would be that the receipts of the Church Assembly Fund would decline. This forecast, which was presumably based on knowledge of their constituents and consideration of the law of diminishing returns (spiritual as well as material) appears to have been tolerably accurate. But the prophets were unto the Assembly as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice and can play well on an instrument.[1]

We believe that it would be true to say that congregations as a whole are giving, for one purpose or another, quite twice as much per head as was usual fifteen years ago. Unfortunately the 'overhead charges' of a parish, heating, lighting, and repairing the Church, and payments to assistant-clergy, organists, and clerks, have more than doubled, so that the margin of income over expenditure is even narrower than it used to be.

We would respectfully suggest that the framers of ambitious schemes at Westminster allow nothing to divert their attention from these facts.

Training Colleges.

Debentures to the value of £218,000 have been issued on behalf of the Church Training Colleges, so it may be hoped that their future is now secure. Good progress has been made with the erection of new buildings. It is also hoped to establish Church hostels in all the modern Universities.

Central Schools.

In Elementary Education the rapidly developing Central Schools promise to present the Church with a serious problem. All who care for education must wish the scheme well. But Local Education Authorities are unlikely to make much use of Church Schools for Central purposes: for obvious reasons which in many places are not insufficient. Before long the Church Schools may find that they lose all children over eleven years of age. Children will be withdrawn from the Church Schools just as they are reaching the age at which it becomes important that they should be taught religion systematically upon a coherent plan, with a view to attaching them to the Church for life. The religious teaching of a Council school can never aim avowedly at this. Its influence is, as a rule, in the opposite direction. Possibly the average age for Confirmation will have to be lowered to eleven or under, that children may become communicants before they leave the Church School. The Prayer Book leaves a wise liberty in the matter, which we venture to think ought not to be invaded by the opinions of individual Bishops. But this course would be no more than a palliative.

Candidates for Holy Orders.

The Supplement which we issued during 1928 recorded 433 ordinations in the two provinces of Canterbury and York, 481 deaths, and 309 retirements. Probably not more than 300 of the 481 were in active work at the time of their death.

These figures show that if it be true to say that 'the tide has turned', we are not yet within sight of meeting our annual losses: to say nothing of making up for the lean years which are past.

A 'Sponsor-scheme' has been very successful, provision for the training of rather more than 350 candidates having been made by this means during the last two years. It is doubtful whether such appeals can be expected to flourish as hardy annuals.

[1] Ezekiel xxxiii. 32.

If they are not to wear thin we think that their closest analogy must be with the visits of angels.

It has been stated on high authority that there are plenty of men available for the ministry if money could be found for their training, and that about half the undergraduates at Oxford and Cambridge are subsidized in one way or another.

We think that both these statements require some qualification. It is by no means certain that all the young men who would like to receive a costly education leading to social advancement at somebody else's expense are capable of benefiting by it or would be of any value to the Church if they were to gain access to Holy Orders.

Most of the 'subsidized' undergraduates hold scholarships or exhibitions, which means that their intellectual capacity has at least emerged satisfactorily from the rough test of a competitive examination of some kind.

It is clear that young men whose position gives them natural access to professional careers—we mean men who might have been called to the Bar, or have taken up the practice of Medicine, or have entered the Civil Service (Home or Indian), or have received commissions in H.M. Navy or Army, whose fathers and brothers are in fact engaged in these and similar callings, do not now offer themselves for Holy Orders as readily as they did. This regrettable fact seems to deserve more attention than it has yet received.

A Bishop has stated recently that the number of assistant curates in his diocese (which has not been reduced in area) has fallen from 238 to 96 in fourteen years. In consequence there are now considerable areas in which a generation is growing up ignorant of all the facts of Christian belief, and destitute of the elements of Christian morality.

We wish we could believe that there is an element of exaggeration in the latter part of this statement, or that there is only one diocese of which it could be made.

It is said that the state of things is even worse in France, where the average age of the clergy is said to be 62, and many churches are without a curé. It is possible that Lucretius might have extracted some consolation from this,[2] but we are not sure whether any Christian ought to do so.

It is no doubt desirable that every social class should be represented in the ministry of the Church, but if it should ever come to pass that practically all the clergy of England are entirely dependent on their professional earnings the problem of maintenance will become even more acute than it is at present.

The Prayer Book.

The Prayer Book Measure has necessarily overshadowed the other proceedings of the Assembly since our last issue. The facts are presumably a matter of common knowledge, but a brief summary will not be out of place here.

A joint meeting of the two Convocations was held at Westminster on 30 March 1927, at which the new Book was laid before the Houses in its final form. The voting was as follows:

	For	Against
Upper House of Canterbury . .	21	4
Upper House of York . . .	11	0
Lower House of Canterbury . .	168	22
Lower House of York . . .	68	10

The measure was presented to the Assembly for final approval at the ensuing summer session. It was announced beforehand that the division would probably be taken on 6 July. On the afternoon of that day, when many members of the House of Laity were anxious to be heard, the duration of speeches was limited to five minutes each. This undoubtedly saved the Assembly some tedious hours. In the opinion of some it destroyed the last chance which the measure had ever had of getting through the House of Commons.

Final approval was given by 517 votes to 133, distributed as follows:

	For	Against
Bishops	34	4
Clergy	253	37
Laity	230	92

Twenty-two members of the House of Clergy and thirty members of the House of Laity appear to have been absent or to have abstained from voting. The measure was debated in the House of Lords on 12, 13, and 14 December, and was carried by 241 votes to 88.

On 15 December it was defeated in the House of Commons by 238 votes to 205. The debate will not, we think, rank as one of the most memorable in the long annals of the House.

A few days later the Archbishops, after consultation with the Bishops, issued a letter in which they declined to take the responsibility of accepting the vote of 15 December as final, and announced their intention of returning the Book to Parliament with 'such changes only as may tend to remove misapprehensions and to make clearer and more explicit its intentions and limitations'.

They added: 'The Bishops fully recognize that there are circumstances in which it would be their duty to take action in accordance with the Church's inherent spiritual authority. We realize this duty, and are ready if need be to fulfil it.'

The principal changes introduced were as follows:

1. The prayer for the King, after the third collect at Morning and Evening Prayer, the use of which was to have been optional in certain circumstances, was made compulsory on every possible occasion.

2. A statement relating to Fasting Communion was inserted amongst the rubrics belonging to the Communion Office.

3. In the rubrics belonging to the Office for the Communion of the Sick the rules proposed for the regulation of Reservation were given in full.

4. The Declaration on Kneeling (sometimes called The Black Rubric) was reprinted at the end of the alternative Communion Office.

(Dispassionate analysis of the contents of this document suggests that the doctrinal importance which appears to be attached to it in some circles is somewhat excessive.)

A joint meeting of the two Convocations was held at Westminster on 28 and 29 March 1928, at which the amended Measure was passed by the following votes:

	For	Against
Upper House of Canterbury . .	20	6
Upper House of York . . .	9	0
Lower House of Canterbury . .	126	48
Lower House of York . . .	50	19

A special meeting of the Church Assembly was held on 27 April at which final approval was given by 396 votes to 153, distributed as follows:

	For	Against
Bishops	32	2
Clergy	183	59
Laity	181	92

About 70 members of the House of Clergy, and 79 members of the House of Laity, appear to have been absent or to have abstained from voting.

The measure was debated in the House of Commons on 13 and 14 June, and was defeated by 266 votes to 220.

It must be regarded as doubtful whether a foreign visitor who had occupied a seat in the Distinguished Strangers' Gallery would have been able to form any clear impression as to what manner of thing a majority of the Members of the House of Commons consider the Church of England to be, or for what purpose they imagine it to exist.

On 2 July the Archbishop of Canterbury addressed the Church Assembly in the following terms (His Grace stated that while the actual words were his own he spoke with the full concurrence of the whole episcopate):

'It is a fundamental principle that the Church—that is the Bishops together with the Clergy and the Laity—must in the last resort when its mind has been fully ascertained retain its inalienable right in loyalty to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ to formulate its Faith in Him and to arrange the expression of that Holy Faith in its forms of worship.

'I venture to believe that no one can challenge that principle as a principle, however loyal he be to the true relation which that principle bears in a Christian land, and ours is a Christian land, to the recognized constitutional rights of the State or nation as such. I do not regard that principle of our fundamental loyalty to Christ and its full expression as in least inconsistent with, or traversed by, the national position which the life-history of England has, thank God, accorded to our Church, and has steadily maintained under all the changes of Parliamentary conditions. But whatever may have been the intention of those who voted the recent decision has troubled many consciences and has raised anxious questions.

'It is our firm hope that when the facts have been quietly considered some strong and capable committee of statesmen and Churchmen may be appointed to weigh afresh the provisions of the existing law in order to see whether any readjustment is required for the maintenance in the conditions of our own age of the principle which we have here and now re-asserted.'

It is obvious that it may not be altogether easy in practice to determine when the mind of the Church has been fully ascertained.

At the end of September the Bishops met at Lambeth and issued an informal statement to the effect that they propose to use the Book of 1928 as a standard by which to regulate such additions to or departures from the Book of 1662 as they may be prepared to sanction or prohibit. This is, of course, an entirely provisional policy designed to tide over an emergency which cannot be ended by any constitutional means for some years to come: namely, until the Committee adumbrated by the Archbishop of Canterbury in his speech of 2 July has been able to bring its task to a successful issue.

The Bishops' proposals have been represented as an open defiance of Parliament and as an attempt to introduce by administrative action changes which Parliament has refused to sanction.

We cannot regard this as a just or reasonable construction.

The worship of the Church must be carried on, and must be regulated by some reasonably uniform and intelligible principle throughout the country. Ministers of other Communions and laymen are not directly responsible for this. Bishops and Clergy are. They alone have to decide what is to be done in any given Church on any given occasion.

The only law which exists for their guidance is 260 years old, and cannot be administered in its entirety. Nor, if a whole-hearted attempt to do so were made, would any parish put up with it for a week. Those who have to administer the law are naturally alive to these facts: many of the laity appear to be sublimely unconscious of them. The administrators also encounter certain lacunae in their progress along the only path which the law provides. They may be pardoned if they prefer to devise some kind of bridge, be it never so temporary a structure, rather than to follow the classic example of Mettius Curtius.[1]

'Things are what they are; and the consequences will be what they will be.'

The interim policy of the Bishops is admittedly not ideal. But what alternative has any critic, who really knows the actual facts, to suggest?

Synods have been held in most dioceses. The general outcome appears to indicate willingness to support the Bishops' policy. Most dioceses appear to include a group of irreconcilable congregationalists amongst the clergy.

The Indian Church Measure.

The history of the Anglican Communion in India is an inspiring one, from the day three centuries ago when the Factory Chaplain at Surat was the only official representative of our Church in Asia, down to the present time when the province of India, Burmah, and Ceylon is organized in fourteen dioceses.

When the Indian Church Measure, together with the Indian Church Act (whereby Part X of the Government of India Act has been repealed so far as it relates to the Church of England), which received the Royal Assent on 22 December 1927, comes into force, the legal connexion between the Church of England and the Anglican Communion in India will be dissolved. It is expected that this will be on 1 January 1930. The Church of England in India will disappear, and an autonomous Church of India, Burmah, and Ceylon will take its place. Except for Chaplains to the Army and to the Government Staffs the Indian Church will be independent of the State. There are, however, to be 323 'maintained' churches, 92 military and 231 civil. All the former and all but twenty-five of the latter are vested in the Crown. (Three of them bear the unusual dedication of St. John in the Wilderness.) If the Archbishop of Canterbury should ever signify in writing to the Governor-General of India in Council that the Indian Church is no longer in communion with the Church of England these buildings will revert to the State.

[1] Ovid, Fasti, vi. 400–66.

The present Bishops of the three Statutory Dioceses (Calcutta, Bombay, Madras) or their successors, if appointed before the Act comes into force, will be paid by the State as heretofore, so long as they hold the office of a Bishop in India. The Bishops of Lahore, Lucknow, Rangoon, and Nagpur will continue to be paid as Senior Chaplains. This payment has always been supplemented from other sources.

This generous provision will give the Church an opportunity to collect reserves of capital to take the place of the grants from the State, which it must lose.

In November 1926 a revised draft of the proposed constitution of the Indian Church was issued. It contains 210 pages and was accompanied by a supplement of 38 pages.

The draft begins with 24 pages of Preliminary Declarations, designed to make clear that the new Church is one with the old, and does not contemplate any change in its fundamental principles. These declarations are to be publicly reaffirmed every twenty years.

On p. 21 the rights of British-born congregations are carefully protected. We hope that these provisions will allay some not unnatural apprehensions which were widely entertained.

The most novel feature of the Constitution is a provincial council which is to include representative laymen.

Especial attention is paid to the possibility of Union with other Churches. We believe that southern India is the only place in the world in which this question has aroused much enthusiasm amongst the laity.

Exalted language is used about Episcopacy. It is, perhaps, not unnatural that as Bishoprics become more numerous the tendency on the part of Bishops to magnify their office should not diminish. In theory the 'inalienable right' of the Episcopate to determine absolutely all questions relating to Faith and Order may be capable of rational defence. But there may be some difficulty—and not only in India—in applying it in practice, in view of the indisputable fact that Bishops tend more and more to be appointed primarily for their administrative gifts.

We believe that some persons who were not in episcopal orders took part in the Vatican Council of 1870.

There must be many risks, beside those which can be foreseen at present, attendant on an experiment so bold and far-reaching as the creation of an autonomous Indian Church. Certainly the authors of the Constitution appear to recognize that they and their successors must needs walk warily.

But we believe that it is not unreasonable to hope that the 'new' Church will prove to be the best of all the many good gifts which England has bestowed upon India.

Cathedrals.

There is hardly anything more noticeable in the life of the Church than the resurrection—that is not too strong a word to use—of Cathedral Churches which has taken place within living memory. It is the more remarkable in view of the report of the Cathedrals' Commission, which shows that, with very few exceptions, every Cathedral has been hampered by lack of revenue for many years past. In some instances canonries or prebends have been suspended in the interests of the fabric, but even these lamentable expedients have proved insufficient. It appears that almost everybody employed in almost every English Cathedral, from the Dean downwards, is underpaid for the work which he is expected to do. The salaries of the organists seem to be even more inadequate than those of any other officials.

For some time after the Reformation men may well have been in some perplexity as to the use to which these institutions could be put, when the saying of masses for the souls of founders and benefactors could no longer be their principal occupation. It is, however, clear that in our world Cathedral Churches have at least three functions of the highest importance to discharge, as Homes of Study, Schools of Sacred Music, and Exemplars of Dignity and Beauty in Worship.

At the summer session of 1928 general approval was sought for a measure embodying some of the recommendations of the Commission's report. Provision was made for seven permanent 'Cathedral Commissioners for England', who were to establish and revise constitutions and statutes for Cathedral and Collegiate Churches. The salaries of these persons, and the expenses of their operations, were to be a charge upon the much-enduring common fund of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners.

The scheme appeared to meet with general disapproval on the part of the representatives of cathedral chapters, who regarded it as an unwarrantable and unnecessary interference with their rights and liberties. No vote was taken and further consideration of the measure was postponed until the autumn session.

When the adjourned discussion was resumed in November 1928 it appeared that two of the most important provisions of the measure, of which one made the Cathedral Commissioners a permanent body and the other constituted the Dean and Canons Residentiary a Standing Committee of the greater chapter, were not regarded by the members-in-charge as more than tentative suggestions. General approval was given on this understanding.

During the session the Incumbents' Resignation Acts, the Benefices (Surplus Endowments) Measure, and other matters of importance were discussed.

Shortly after 4 P.M. on 16 November a member of the House of Clergy moved the adjournment of the Assembly, as a protest against what he called 'the tyranny of the Standing Committee'. The motion was carried, so that the session terminated abruptly though the end of the agenda paper had not been reached.

Province of East Africa.

We understand that the Church in East Africa is to be constituted as an autonomous ecclesiastical province. The idea originated with Bishop Weston of Zanzibar in 1910, and was approved by the Archbishop of Canterbury in 1920. It did not, however, commend itself to the diocese of Uganda. The scheme lapsed for a time with the death of Bishop Weston in 1925. The island of Mauritius is not to be included, on account of its Indian connexions.

Farnham Castle.

In the issue of The Times for 20 May 1927 it was announced that an anonymous donor had given the sum of £20,000 to enable Farnham Castle to be used for the general purposes of the dioceses of Winchester, Portsmouth, and Guildford.

Reunion in Scotland.

On 27 May 1927 the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland approved unanimously the draft basis of Reunion with the United Free Church. The Assembly of the latter followed suit by 675 votes to 126.

The preamble of the draft declares 'That these churches, representing historic branches of the Presbyterian Church of Scotland, do and shall henceforth constitute one united Church, and the name of the united Church shall be The Church of Scotland'.

It is hoped that the Reunion will be a fait accompli by the summer of 1929. We believe that the points at issue were originally of a somewhat secondary character, and that the passage of years has tended to diminish their significance. We would offer our respectful congratulations to all those whose faith and sagacity have been instrumental in bringing the schism to an end.

Welsh Burial Grounds.

On 2 June 1927 it was reported that only 123 local authorities in Wales had agreed to accept the transfer of burial grounds under the Welsh Church Act.

This unforeseen difficulty has compelled the Commissioners for Church Temporalities in Wales to apply to the Home Secretary for special legislation. It would appear that the pure devotion of the Welsh people to the land of their fathers (which has often been held up as a model to their grosser neighbours) does not extend to the expenditure of money on those portions of the land wherein the bones of the fathers aforesaid repose. This pious duty depended upon an 'alien' Church, until the right and power to discharge it were forcibly taken away.

The Lausanne Conference.

During the month of August 1927 a conference on Faith and Order, which had been in preparation for several years, was held at Lausanne.

About 400 delegates from Orthodox, Old Catholic, Anglican, Lutheran, and Evangelical Communions met under the chairmanship of Bishop Brent. Roman Catholics and British Baptists declined the invitation to be represented.

Five reports on The Gospel of the Church of Christ, The Nature of the Church, The Common Confession of Faith, The Ministry, and The Sacraments were received nemine contradicente, and the delegates undertook to commend them to their respective communions. The sixth report on The Unity of Christendom in relation to existing Churches failed to secure general approval. It is said that the idea of the Church of England as exceptionally fitted by character and tradition to act as a bridge between the Reformed Communions and the older parts of Christendom appeared to be unfamiliar to many delegates. If, which appears unlikely, the Conference has done no more than call attention to this possibility, it has justified itself. The full effects cannot be felt for many years.

In the opinion of some of the Anglican delegates the gulf between the Professor's chair and the Pastor's pulpit is dangerously wide in some of the Reformed Communions. We fear that its span does not diminish in England. We can imagine few things more mischievous than that obsolete and untenable views of the Bible should be preached to the rising generation.

The Church of Albania.

In July 1927 His Holiness Basil III recognized the Orthodox Church of Albania as autocephalous. It is to be governed by the synod of the Archbishop of Tirana, who as Primate has four Suffragan Bishops within his jurisdiction. The church is said to possess about 170,000 members.

The Coptic Patriarch.

His Beatitude Kyrillos V, Coptic Patriarch of Egypt and Abyssinia, died at Cairo on 7 August 1927 at the age of 96: according to other authorities at the age of 105. In 1892 he was banished to a provincial monastery by Riaz Pasha for refusing to recognize a decree laicizing the Coptic Wakfs. Popular feeling ran so strongly in his favour that he was recalled at the end of eight months. He had held the Patriarchate since 1874. His successor was consecrated on 16 December 1928, and has taken the title of Yoannes XIX.

The issue of The Times for 31 December 1928 reported the death of His Beatitude Gregorios IV, Orthodox Patriarch of Antioch.

The Church of Russia.

The Times correspondent at Riga has stated that during the year 1927, 9 Metropolitans, 25 Archbishops, and 83 Bishops were consigned to Soviet prisons in Moscow, Vialka, and Turkestan, or to concentration-camps in the Solovetsky Islands, for periods varying from three years to life. They have not been accused of any crime, or brought before any court for trial, but have been seized under 'an administrative order'. They are compelled to perform menial tasks, and not allowed to hold any religious service.

The full story of the sufferings of the Russian Church under the Bolshevist régime will probably never be known. But Englishmen ought to remember that a persecution as savage as any in Christian history is going on at this moment in a country which wishes to be accounted civilized.

The Malines Conversations.

On 19 January 1928 a report of the 'Malines Conversations' was published in English and French. Eight points are specified on which an agreement was reached 'without much difficulty'. Space forbids us to enumerate them in detail. We think it doubtful whether the position taken by the Anglican representatives would be accepted by the Church of England as a whole.

The position of the Pope is naturally a matter of difficulty. Anglicans might be willing to assign to him a 'primacy of honour': Roman Catholics appear to demand a 'primacy of responsibility'.

These conferences have made clear that while there are scholars in the Roman Church capable of discussing differences as scholars do discuss such things, the Church itself, as represented by its official authorities, sees no value in such proceedings. In any plans for Reunion which may be forthcoming the Church of Rome prefers to be left out of account. It is important that these facts should be fully recognized in England.

The Jerusalem Conference.

At Easter 1928 an international missionary conference was held under American auspices on the Mount of Olives. All the delegates appear to have agreed that the greatest danger in every part of the world is not any hostile creed, but a rising tide of blank secularism.

At the outset some of the Asiatic delegates are said to have exhibited a rancorous nationalism, which displayed itself in virulent attacks upon the European nations, to whose good offices they owed their presence there. A more Christian temper is said to have prevailed before the close.

The Primate.

On 22 October 1928 the Primate received the Freedom of the City of London. We believe that this honour has not been conferred upon a Bishop before. On 3 November it was announced that the King had been pleased to confer a Barony of the United Kingdom upon him. We believe that there is no precedent for this in the case of an English Bishop. He has taken the title of Lord Davidson of Lambeth. The national tribute, to which there were about 15,000 subscribers, amounted to £16,936. £14,500 was given to the Archbishop for his personal use. The balance is to be spent upon a memorial at Lambeth Palace. The American Church made a supplementary gift of £2,000.

The Sixth World Call Report.

On 8 and 9 November 1928 the sixth and last of the 'World Call' reports was presented to York Minster.

This report deals with oriental dispersions, primarily of course with the Jews and secondly with other Asiatics, or Africans, domiciled outside their own countries. The negro population of the West Indies is one for which we in England are almost entirely responsible. It also touches on little known fields of missionary work, e.g. in the interior of South America. It reviews the fields covered by the five preceding reports and concludes with some remarks of a general character (perhaps of somewhat varying degrees of wisdom) on the missionary task of the Church of England.

Briefly—it may be said that the missionary outlook is extraordinarily hopeful all the world over and that a very rapid advance may be anticipated, if men can be found to take advantage of the new opportunities, and money for their support. We have now to envisage our missionary task in a way which will be new to many. We ought not to think of ourselves as trying to plant branches of our own church in distant quarters of the globe, but as planting indigenous churches, from which, in due course, we shall have much to learn.

Conclusion. One correspondent has told us that he desires to express his thanks for the courtesy which we have invariably extended towards him for a period of more than forty years. Naturally, we are grateful for the kindly thought which has prompted this letter. We are, however, obliged to say that the balance of indebtedness is very heavily on our side. For more than half a century we have owed a very great deal to a large and increasing number of correspondents all the world over. Their courtesy has done more than anything else to enable us to reach what we believe to be a high standard of accuracy and completeness. Upon the maintenance of this standard the value of Crockford must always very largely depend.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used 'Oeden's' Altar Wine without interruption for more than fifteen years and with entire satisfaction. I chose it originally as the best I could find irrespective of the question of cost. I find it is also a good deal less expensive than most other Altar Wines, and I greatly prefer it to them all. REV. H. W. HAWORTH.

Burlescombe Vicarage, Wellington, Somerset.

DEAR SIRS.—It is a good many years now since I was first induced by a leading authority on ecclesiastical matters to go to Messrs. J. G. Ford and Son for Altar Wine. I have never regretted my action, nor felt that I could in any way improve upon it. The Firm take the highest view of their responsibilities, and their Wine is admirable. Beautifully clear, it is not sticky in use, and it keeps well, which is so important a point in small parishes. In my opinion others may be good, but—FORD FIRST! Their courtesy makes it a real pleasure to have dealings with them. REV. BASIL G. RICHINGS.

All Altar Wines guaranteed the pure juice of the Grape.

Samples and Price Lists free on application.

OXFORD DICTIONARIES

The Great Dictionary, now complete in ten volumes, needs no praise. It is a monument of scholarship and efficiency. But, because all houses have not rooms in which to house a monument, the ordinary reader may be more immediately interested in one of the following.

THE CONCISE OXFORD DICTIONARY. 7s. 6d. net.
Also on thin and on India papers, bound in a variety of leather styles.

THE POCKET OXFORD DICTIONARY. 3s. 6d. net. India paper, bound in cloth, 6s. net.
The India paper edition may be had also bound in leather

THE MINIATURE OXFORD DICTIONARY. 1s. 6d. net.

These three dictionaries are carefully based upon their parent, the Great Dictionary, and are missionaries of its scholarship.

THERE IS ALSO

A DICTIONARY OF MODERN ENGLISH USAGE. By H. W. FOWLER. 7s. 6d. net. India paper, 10s. net.

'We have here probably the most remarkable book that has ever been devoted to the art of expression in English.'—Observer.

Crockford's Clerical Directory

For the Year 1929

It is requested that this Work be cited as "CROCKFORD'S CLERICAL DIRECTORY"

SPECIAL NOTE

THE EDITOR begs particularly to assure his readers, not only in the interests of individuals, but in that of the whole Church, and, indeed, of the public at large, that if any of them should be acquainted with the postal address of any clergyman whose address is omitted, or whose name appears in the Appendix, and will communicate the correct address to him, at Amen House, Warwick Square, E.C. 4., they will not only confer an obligation on the clergy and the public, but obviate much trouble to them.

A correspondent has suggested that the following information be inserted in this place:

GROSS INCOME is the sum of all sources of Income whatever.

THE OUTGOINGS are Rates (other than Rates on Residence, House and Grounds), Land Tax, cost of collection of rents, tithe-rent-charge, &c., average cost of repairs to Glebe Buildings (including repairs to Chancel if Incumbent is liable therefor, but not including repairs to Residence House), Fire Insurance (other than on Residence House), Salary of Curate paid out of income of Benefice, Pensions to retired Incumbents, Annual payments in respect of any Mortgage to Q.A.B. or other terminable mortgage.

PARLIAMENTARY ELECTORS of the Universities are distinguished by an asterisk (*) prefixed to the name.

† Denotes that either the return has not been made, or has been imperfectly filled up.

The Arms shown are those used by the Archbishops and Bishops for their respective dioceses. Private or Family Arms are not emblazoned with them.
